2,333 Crimes Against the Environment Resolved in Court

Over the past 5 years, the prosecution service has exercised supervision over 4,105 crimes against the environment, issued indictments in 2,333 cases and had them transferred to and resolved in court. Of these, illegal logging accounts for 41 percent.

Over the past 2 years, the courts have found 1,228 individuals and 18 legal entities guilty and imposed criminal liability, of whom 13 are foreign nationals from countries including the People's Republic of China, the Russian Federation, Taiwan and Kazakhstan.

Of the 25 billion MNT in environmental damage caused in the 797 cases resolved in court, 6.09 billion MNT has been compensated.
