Training Held on “The Requirement for Lawful Arrest of Suspects and the Principle of Ensuring the Right to Inviolability”

The Training and Research Institute under the General Prosecutor's Office, jointly with the Capital City Prosecutor's Office, organised a training on “The Requirement for Lawful Arrest of Suspects and the Principle of Ensuring the Right to Inviolability” on October 30, 2026.

Based on the findings of the study “Prosecutorial Supervision of the Urgent Arrest of Suspects” conducted by the Capital City Prosecutor's Office, this was a distinctive training addressing issues such as ensuring the right to personal inviolability and liberty in the arrest of suspects, the specific features of arrests made with court authorisation and urgent arrests, and practical issues in the application of the law.

The training was attended in person and online by prosecutors of the province, Capital City, Transport, district and inter-soum prosecutor's offices, as well as investigators and criminal investigators of the Investigation Department, the Criminal Police Department, the Cybercrime Department, the Ecological Police Department and the Narcotics Control Department of the General Police Department, the Independent Authority Against Corruption and the General Intelligence Agency.
